Classic Film Series to Begin

Okay film buffs, it's time to start saving the date, make a date, or just invite a friend to enjoy a classic movie. Instructor Eric Pelkey has been scouring his extensive film library and is inviting you (and anyone you know) to join him in watching some of Hollywood's finest flicks.

Starting the series (which will run through April) is a film by one of the biggest directors of all time – Alfred Hitchcock. ROPE is the perfect thriller for college roommates to enjoy together.

Come catch the show on Wednesday, January 19, at 7:00 p.m., in the Edmunds Conference Center.

1960s
CELEBRATION
A HIT!

NMCC students, faculty and staff flashed back to the 1960s with a "sock hop" celebration complete with a D.J. spinning Rock 'n Roll hits from the era and the NMCC Diner serving up free burger and hot dog baskets with a soda fountain counter featuring milk shakes and sundaes. The event was held January 12 in the gym to kick off NMCC's 50th anniversary. Approximately 600 college and community members took part in the fun. Among those providing entertainment was the staff of the student services area, who won the "Spirit" Award for their outfits as well as their lively performance of the "Hand Jive." Among those performing from the area were (front, from left): Robbie Krul, assistant director of admissions; Betsy Harris, registrar; Lori Googins, athletic director; Nicole Poulin, administrative support. Back, from left: Dr. William Egeler, dean of students; Shelli Cronkhite, counselor; Tom Richard, human resources manager & director of housing; Gayle Dickinson, administrative specialist I; Heidi Graham, financial aid representative; and Nancy Gagnon, admissions secretary. Also taking part from student services but not shown were: Cindy Albert, administrative specialist II; Johna Lovely, student support/transfer specialist; Gene McCluskey, director of admissions; Tammy Nelson, director of counseling/student support services; and Norma Smith, assistant director of financial aid.

A lot of folks got into the spirit of things and did the Twist. Joyce Tremblay (right) secretary for the academic dean, won the competition.

Despite some stiff competition, Lori Googins (above) was named best dressed, while liberal studies student Dusty Graham (background above) won the limbo contest.

Tyler Freeman won the talent contest with his lip syncing, hip gyrating rendition of Elvis that really got the crowd going.

Left: A number of nursing students were among those who took part in the hoola hoop contest, won by nursing student Alix Curtain.

Thanks to all who attended and made this event such a success!

Trade instructors, from left, Dennis Albert, Guy Jackson, Al St. Peter and Dave Guerrette, along with Dennis' son Austin, put on quite the show as "The Tokens" despite a few technical difficulties.

Kudos to all of those who entertained us at the celebration:

- Staff from the development office (JFK/Marilyn skit) and from student services (hand jive), the trade faculty who performed as The Tokens (see names under photo to left), and instructor Bob Collins (who sang "Wonderful Life");
- Students Patsy Carlson ("Love Me Tender"), Kendra Tracy ("Bobbie McGee"), Heidi Cyr ("Harper Valley PTA"), and Amanda Mott ("Crazy");
- Community members Tyler Freeman (Elvis); Jami Lynn Deschesne ("Hopelessly Devoted to You"), and Stu Wyckoff ("For the Good Times").
